ROBBINS CONDEMNS INTERVENTION IN RUSSIA REVOLUTION

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, March 7.—Intervention in Russia was condemned by Raymond Robbins, former head of the American Red Cross mission in that country, yesterday before the senate committee investigating propaganda.

Mr. Robbins said American soldiers and munitions should not be used to crush a revolution which he said represented the wishes of the Russian people. He declared it was his opinion that intervention was justified.

The Bolshevik government, strengthen Bolshevik tendencies in England and France and materially assist in laying a groundwork for the spread of radical doctrines in this country.

The witness thought the Russian people could get rid of Lenin and Trotsky at any time they desired.

"It is really suggested that after fighting side by side with France for four and a half years we are now going to leave it to France alone," Capt. Guest said.

Mr. Bonar Law pointed out that whatever Great Britain might do France would have to keep men on guard against the Germans.

Gives French Point of View.
André, Bonar Law, government leader, maintained that the bill involved no departure from election pledges and evoked loud cheers by asking:

"Is it really suggested that after fighting side by side with France for four and a half years we are now going to leave it to France alone?"

He called the second reading by a vote of 304 to 71.

Mr. Bonar Law pointed out that whatever Great Britain might do France would have to keep men on guard against the Germans.

Gives French Point of View.

"I do not think," added the government leader, "that you in this house sufficiently appreciate the French point of view in regard to this question. She sees, lying on the moment, sprawling on the ground, the savage beast which has been tearing her entrails for four years, and do you think that is a danger she can face with equanimity until the power of the beast, for evil has been destroyed?"

If the effect of this bill was in any sense whatever to mean that conscription was to be our system in the future, I would thoroughly sympathize with all opposition directed against it. It is my belief that it is far from that because the securing of the fruits of the victory which has been bought so dearly will be the best safeguard against conscription."

U. S. WARNS ITALY
ON FOOD EMBARGO

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, March 7.—Italy has been warned by the American government that unless she puts an end to delays in movements of relief supplies to the newly established Jugo-Slavic and Czech-Slavic states steps will be taken to cut off the flow of American foodstuffs to Italy.

It was stated yesterday in an automatic quarter that the Italian government had caused intolerable conditions by the blockade she has imposed against the Jugo-Slavic countries and which operates also against the Czech-Slovaks.

The blockade has not been wholly effective because the United States has been able to deliver much food where it was needed, but many delays have been caused, resulting often in holding up supplies the need of which was desperate.

SHOEMAKER HOME NIGHT BEFORE MURDER SAY FIVE WITNESSES

BELoit ITALIANS ON STAND GIVE ALIBI TESTIMONY IN CO-
CIVERA CASE.

DEFENSE GETS SHAKE

Trial Rested at 10:30; State Begins Argument In Closing Pages of Court Session.

That Carmelo Cocivera, murdered shot, never left his home on the night before he was shot, was the substance of the testimony furnished by five of the state's witnesses in rebuttal in circuit court this morning. The alibi testimony was given in an effort to prove that Cordia was not the man alleged to have been seen hiding behind a tree in front of Delorenzo's grocery store the night before the tragedy.

The evidence produced was sufficient to shake that given by the witnesses for the defense who testified yesterday to having seen the shoemaker peeking from behind the tree at Cocivera and his wife. Those who testified that Cordia spent the evening at his home and family gathering were Mrs. Martino, John Veneri, Vito Serrone, Lorenzo Alague, Michael Monella, Enea Cordia, and Adrea Goclin. Mary Lombardo, daughter of Cordia, also testified along the same line.

Policeman Recalled.

Dell Green, first police official on the scene after the shooting, was besieged by the Spartacists for two days was cut off from all communication with other government forces in the German capital late Thursday, according to a telegram from Berlin.

Each side rested its case at 10:30 this morning, ten minute recess was taken, and presentation of the state's arguments was begun. District Attorney Gowdwin said he briefly reviewed the cause and told of the shooting as he thought it had occurred according to the testimony offered by both sides.

He said Cordia was shot in the back of the neck by Cocivera as Cordia was walking away from the store and that Cordia turned around and the defendant shot again this time, passing through his neck causing him to drop to the ground dead. He characterized the possibility that Cordia fired as utterly absurd.

Defendant Tells Long Story.

Carmelo Cocivera, accused murderer, took the witness stand at three o'clock yesterday afternoon and in a straightforward manner told his story of "designs which have not been laid upon the table" and in this connection declared that he knew that France had tried to keep the Czechoslovaks in Russia after offering to assist in getting them out as a means of overthrowing the revolution "at any cost."

Physicians Condemn Strike.

Berlin, Wednesday, March 5.—The governing board of the society of physicians and surgeons has sharply condemned the strike of German sailors on the ground that it jeopardizes public health through the stoppage of all transportation and telephone service.

The proposed change as it now stands calls for cancellation of class and commodity rates and "substitution of the official classification and a mileage scale, advancing all rates in Illinois and extending north into Wisconsin and eliminating commodity rates at present in effect in Wisconsin."

Says Privation Cause of Trouble.

"The present unrest, terror and crime are diseases of the social body which it is unable to resist because it has become weakened through privation and loss of blood," says the North German Gazette. "The German people can recuperate only when it receives new products that will permit it to work and food in order that it may live."

Our enemies are denying us both.

Their attitude is the real cause of the present crisis and the prevalent criminal activity. In view of these events they should realize it is contrary to the international law of humanity to permit a fallen foe to lie helpless on the ground."

Proposed cancellation of Illinois class and commodity rates, which would cut down the field of local manufacturers' business operations was protested in a telegram sent from the Chamber of Commerce to the Illinois State Legislature today.

The proposed change as it now stands calls for cancellation of class and commodity rates and "substitution of the official classification and a mileage scale, advancing all rates in Illinois and extending north into Wisconsin and eliminating commodity rates at present in effect in Wisconsin."

Such a change would mean that manufacturers of certain commodities in this vicinity would no longer be able to compete with Indiana firms in that territory, due to the mileage rate.

At the same time the local field would be increased, because it can be reached by railroads from Illinois firms to those of Janesville.

A hearing is scheduled in Milwaukee, March 24, which several Janesville business men plan to attend.

BILL CLEARS PATH FOR CITY TO BUY UTILITIES

Madison, March 7.—That every city, village or town in Wisconsin can purchase, acquire or construct any public utility and pay for the same out of the revenues of the utility without increasing the bonded indebtedness of the city if a bill introduced by Senator Ray J. Tipton, Superior, becomes a law is the claim of City Attorney Tipton, Superior.

Although the bill was drafted especially to permit the city of Superior to acquire the water works plant without increasing its bonded indebtedness, Mr. Tipton declares it will permit any city to acquire by purchase or to construct any utility.

The present law regarding the purchase of a public utility is ample for the acquisition of any utility, declared Mr. Tipton, "but the trouble we past and at the present time is to finance the acquisition and that is what this bill provides for." This bill permits the city to issue bonds against the utility which become a statutory mortgage lien upon the property, but not upon the city.

DR. WAUFLE TELLS OF WORK OVERSEAS

Dr. Guy Waufle, who recently returned from France after serving for several months with the American forces was the guest of honor at a banquet tendered him by over 100 of his friends at the Myers hotel last evening.

Edouard Avery, chairman of the committee in charge of the affair, presided and in a short opening address he welcomed Dr. Waufle back to Janesville and also extended a welcome to Lieut. George Sherman of the aviation corps.

After a banquet had been served Lieut. Sherman was called upon by Mr. Avery for a talk. Lieut. Sherman was given a great ovation when he arose, and as he stood before the assembly prepared to speak, the cheers began deafening.

In opening his address Lieut. Sherman told how glad he was to be back in Janesville and stated that he was sure that the majority of the men who had been in the army would voice his sentiments when they returned.

Bombing trips, reconnoitering trips and send work, were described by the speaker during his talk and many previous tales of the aviation service were recounted.

Dr. Guy Waufle gave a detailed talk of his trip to France, his work there and his return voyage to America.

He spoke of how, while enroute to France aboard a transport, the passengers were told they were being attacked by a submarine and prepared for the emergency when later it was found that the sub was a reality a large whale.

How a physician works in a hospital behind the front line trenches was related by the speaker and in a careful manner he related the many different wounds that a doctor has to care for each day.

Shortly before his vessel arrived at England he ran on a sand bar and Dr. Waufle told of the work of saving the ship from being destroyed and how it required 20 tug boats to hold it from turning over.

A fitting tribute was paid to the Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army and the Red Cross by Dr. Waufle. He spoke particularly of the work of the Red Cross and recounted the many things accomplished by the organizations in France.

ACTION ON HOSPITAL ADDITION EXPECTED

Definite action on the Mercy hospital addition, which was recently approved by the board of directors and later by the voters of the city is expected tonite at a board meeting at the hospital.

A. B. Moberly, Mercantile Trust company, St. Louis, will be present to discuss financing the construction. At present sufficient funds are not available.

Bachar & Pfanner, architects, will present tentative plans for the addition, which is expected will be of three stories and large enough to accommodate about 60 patients. The present capacity of the hospital is about 45, and applications are being turned away at the rate of two a day.

GEORGE CHAMPION QUILTS POLICE FORCE

George Champion, for the past five years a member of the Janesville police force, handed his resignation to Chief of Police William Gower last evening. The resignation was accepted by the chief at the urgent request of Mr. Champion.

Mr. Champion has been on the west side beat at nights for many years during his term as guardian of the law he has made many friends among the business men. Mr. Champion did not state what he intended to do in the future.

The group of orchestral selections included, "Intermezzo," by Bradley, "Song of the Gypsies," by Dvorak, and "The Mock Morris Dance," by Percy Grainger. They were played with a verve and decision which showed thorough training and yet with a delicacy of shading which comes from a sympathetic understanding of the subjects presented. Especially the Gypsy songs were the wail of melodies given in their barbaric coloring.

Miss Doris Randolph played a couple of violin numbers with great sweeteness and effect. They were "

HANDICAPPED SOLDIERS AIDED BY U. S. BUREAU

Wounded soldiers shall not suffer for their patriotism, is the motto of the handicapped division of the U. S. Employment bureau, which has placed several soldiers in new positions because their injuries made them unfit for their former jobs.

One overseas man, formerly a bartender, suffered from chronic bronchitis and asthma, following a severe gassing on the front. As a result he could not return to his indoor occupation. Through the employment service, he was trained as a motor mechanic and given an open air occupation as chauffeur.

An interesting section of the book, "The Claw," by Katherine Oliver, is the California story, and gives a good idea of the arguments used by the grape growers and wine-makers of the state, against the prohibition amendment. A young man just fresh from college came home prepared to fight for the wet legislation and found many things with which to think along the other line, and although he was tempted by good financial offers, and a seat in the state legislature, yet he came out strong for the temperance cause.

A report given by Mrs. Horwood showed that progress was being made in getting the proposed new school started in the schools. The next meeting will be in charge of Miss Caroline Palmer.

RECREATIONAL NEEDS.

We of Janesville have been so engrossed with the prospects of preparing for the business future of the city that we have overlooked, perhaps, some of the recreational advances which must be made if we are to remain a contented, healthful city.

No man or woman can work unceasingly without recreation. Not, at least, for any length of time. At some time comes the breaking point, and then ruined health, shattered nerves and misery follows.

A city can reach just such a stage. A city must play as well as work. It must relax from the strain of business and give its inhabitants something different than the humdrum existence which goes with business.

Janesville has many beautiful spots which can be utilized for playgrounds for her citizens. Not playgrounds, particularly in the sense of being utilized for children alone, but for all her citizens, grown-ups and children. Janesville is located on one of the most beautiful streams of the middle west. Advantage should be taken of this location.

We should have a zoo, situated in some section of the city which can be easily reached by all. The zoo should be placed in a park which is sufficiently large to allow for base-ball diamonds and other playgrounds. It should be provided with tables which could be used for picnics. It should be the big public recreation center of the city.

With the population increasing at a rapid rate, it will be necessary for immediate steps to be taken to provide amusement for the public.

One of the strongest arguments advanced by those opposed to prohibiting that the saloon is the poor man's club. It is one of the arguments which has been difficult to combat, for it has been proven that where municipalities have failed to provide social centers and recreational advantages, the man with small means went to the place where he could meet his fellow worker. If it were not for the air of sociability which is encouraged by the saloons, they could not have existed as long as they have.

With the end of the public saloon in sight, cities which have supported them must prepare some diversion to take their places. A man who works all week in factory, store or office should be encouraged to get out into the open on Sunday or Saturday afternoon. He will be a better citizen and he will be a better employee.

Madison started a zoo a few years ago with a few animals. It was located in a park where there was plenty of play room. Gradually the zoo grew; animals and birds were added to the collection until today Madison has one of the finest small zoos in the country.

Many of the animals were donated by public spirited citizens and others were obtained by the city and the park association.

In summer, Vilas park, Madison, is one of the most popular resorts in this section of the country. A few years ago it was a strip of land along Lake Winona, unattractive and apparently useless.

Who will be one of the first citizens to donate an animal for the zoo? We should have a good start before the summer is well advanced. It may be possible to organize a zoological society that will take personal interest in getting together a collection of birds and animals which will not only be a source of pleasure, but of education for our citizens.

KEEP WHAT WE HAVE.

America is one nation which is reasonably sure of getting her pay from Germany if Washington takes advantage of an opportunity to keep what is in our possession. We refer to the $800,000,000 of German corporations and individuals in money and property held by the alien enemy custodian. It has been intimated that this money and property will be used to pay off damages suffered since the beginning of the European war by Americans at the hands of the German government. It is to be hoped that this method of securing reparation will be adopted. If it is not, Americans who have been the victims of Hun atrocities may wait a long time for satisfaction.

SHINE "OUTSIDE."

Dear R. K. M.—Now that saloons will soon be relics, is it pertinent to ask what will become of the ubiquitous individual Salier, who brazenly and shamelessly flaunts the legend "I'm inside" outside of most thirsty parlors?

Will he at last return to his patient wife or will he take his stand inside of some ice cream parlor, where a reminiscent bar will remind him of the good, old days before the deluge?

NIK-NUB.

A New York man has had his name changed four times by the courts.

When he gets one that suits him we'll have him put in "Hoo's-Hoo in America."

The wild geese are flying south," says an old sailor. Palm Beach is just naturally crowded with 'em now, we take it.

O. O. McIntyre informs us that New Yorkers are victims of Claustrophobia. They are all right when moving, but when inclosed in a small, dark train they become panicky at the slightest cause. Then there are others, of course, who are victims of Santa Claustrophobia. They are the rich ones who have friends in the chorus.

A loud outcry will be made by private owners of the property seized by the alien property custodian against its use to pay off the debt. Possession is nine points in law and we should leave the alien enemies, most of them sympathizers with Germany and her atrocious conduct, do the worrying. We have the German money; it is needed to meet our reparation demands; and if we do not use this money to compensate American citizens for their losses, we may wait a generation or two before there is any money available for the purpose. Let those alien enemies go to their government for the return of their property. They can afford to wait as well as can America. They can file their claims for redress against their government at their own pleasure. And if they have to wait they are unfortunate in being under a government which was capable of allowing her citizens to get into such a predicament.

PAY FOR SOLDIERS.

One of the important bills introduced by Senator Cunningham, Bedford, provides for three months' pay for honorably discharged soldiers and sailors. It is scheduled for hearing before the committee on education and public welfare, next Thursday afternoon.

The measure, if passed, will be substantial recognition of the valiant services of our boys who served in the war with Germany. It will provide for the needs of thousands of young men who have been discharged from service and who will have to readjust their affairs before again taking up pursuits of peace. This proposed payment will be made in addition to the sum to be paid by the federal government.

For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the act, a loan is authorized for an amount which shall not exceed $15,000,000. It will be known as the "Wisconsin Soldiers' Payment Loan of 1919." The state is given the right to negotiate coupon bonds at an interest rate, not to exceed 4½ per cent. The issue to be for not less than $100 each.

In the event the federal government repays to the state any money paid by the state to soldiers, monies so repaid shall be used to redeem the bonds.

The least the great state of Wisconsin can do to show her appreciation of the great sacrifices made by her soldiers is to give them sufficient funds to live comfortably until they are able to get back to work.

Those who are interested in the payment of discharged soldiers and sailors should either attend the hearings or send petitions to the legislature asking for favorable action on the measure.

Janesville has many beautiful spots which can be utilized for playgrounds for her citizens. Not playgrounds, particularly in the sense of being utilized for children alone, but for all her citizens, grown-ups and children. Janesville is located on one of the most beautiful streams of the middle west. Advantage should be taken of this location.

Now is a good time to make plans for that Victory garden. Literature can be obtained from the government through the Chamber of Commerce. It will be a short time before the ground will be ready for the seeds. It is just as necessary to raise a victory garden as it was to raise a war garden.

Noble lords of exalted rank in England have decided that they will form a union to protect their interests.

Perhaps one of the first steps will be for an eight hour day. Most of them have to put in long hours at their social duties. We may look for a strike soon.

Have you made plans to build that house this spring so that the man who comes here with his family to make his future home can live in comfort and add a desirable population to Janesville? Not only will it be a good investment but it is a civic duty.

With the end of the public saloon in sight, cities which have supported them must prepare some diversion to take their places. A man who works all week in factory, store or office should be encouraged to get out into the open on Sunday or Saturday afternoon. He will be a better citizen and he will be a better employee.

FORTY YEARS AGO

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Daily Gazette, March 7, 1879.—Last evening a happy surprise was perpetrated upon Mr. and Mrs. Joe P. Baker, about a score of friends participating. The surprise was complete, and as in accordance with the plan Mr. and Mrs. Baker were led to believe that they were to join a party to surprise Thomas Cairns and wife. They accordingly arranged their affairs to go, and were taken completely by surprise when the whole company marched in and took possession of their house. They brought with them an abundance of ration and everything necessary for a good time. Among the funny incidents of the evening was "Simon pie" which served as a partook of, but to no very great extent, as beneath the frosting was a generous layer of pepper and some men. A few got badly sold by sampling it. There was a general good time and the evening passed away.

Mrs. Murray, the fourth ward woman, who was well known throughout the neighborhood, was surprised to find that she is picking up preparatory to leave town.

Mrs. Beale and Mrs. Goodell were among those present at the meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

The Churchill case has come to a speedy ending, the defendants being discharged on payment of costs thus ending what promised to be a lengthy trial.

Six stamps were brought up before Justice Prichard this morning and the number five were smooth faced boys. They all were given small fines and run out of town.

Ralph Graves, Madison, spent Sunday at his home here.

Mr. Frank Powell, Platteville, was a recent guest at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Miller.

Peter Spurley and family have moved to Madison.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Waite were recently at Madison with relatives.

The Misses Ruth Starr and Angeline Tullis spent the week end at their homes in Brodhead and Evansville, respectively.

Miss Mabel Olsen who has been ill at the John Odegard home here, is much improved in health now.

Misses De Jean came from Madison, Monday to spend some time at her home here, to regain her health after a six weeks' illness with small-pox.

Ralph Graves, Madison, spent Sunday at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Waite were recently at Madison with relatives.

The Misses Ruth Starr and Angeline Tullis spent the week end at their homes in Brodhead and Evansville, respectively.

Miss Hopkins is now the possessor of a new saxophone.

Miss Mildred Welland, Baraboo, was a recent guest at the home of her brother here.

"Vets" Green Captain

Sheboygan, March 7.—Captain Theodore Phelan, formerly of the 32nd division, was welcomed home here by a delegation of civil war veterans. Seven grey-haired veterans came from Sheboygan Falls to greet the captain.

Chaplain Given Pastorate

Sheboygan, March 7.—The Rev. Edward Schmidt, Chaplain at Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., for two years past, installed as pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church here, March 23. He succeeds the late Rev. G. E. Meyer, who died suddenly.

Endorsed by President Wilson.

The President said:—"All that I can say has already been said most admirably in this beautiful play. All the sentiments I could express have been admirably represented—sentiments that, I hope, will soon grip the world."

Unanimously approved by the entire Press of New York and Chicago

It is a play about human beings—familiar everyday men and women—not stage puppets!—It will make you laugh—it will make you weep. It will make you think—it has the laughs of "Pouah" and "Perlmutter" and the tears of "The Music Master"—It is the kind of play that audiences cheer and that people go to see again and again—it has become more than a success, it has become a kind of institution—an event.

MYERS THEATER

"Friendly Enemies" is a great patriotic picture now playing at Myers theater. It is a wonderful drama of democracy, of brotherhood. It traces the history of world advancement from the Garden of Eden to the dawn of peace in the present year of our Lord. It is a graphic history of the world prepared with care, containing much truth and effort for dramatic effect. It is an example of an ordinary motion picture. An augustinian descriptive musical score similar to those employed in "The Birth of a Nation" and "Intolerance" adds greatly to the effects.

A WOMAN'S BUSINESS

BY ZOE BECKLEY

EACH TO HIS OWN PATH. Probably the sturdiest-minded female ever born, treasured a secret wish to be dominated by some man—the successful business woman never lived who was happy in having more success than her husband. No woman lives for power alone. She wants love. And love implies protection; protection implies force of character which in turn generally carries with it a big share of this world's goods.

Janet never, even to herself, thought of her husband as a failure. When she praised him to a pedestal of strength and triumph. He was working along lines he had marked out for himself, and that showed grit. He was doing excellent work; every one told him so, even the publishers who rejected his manuscripts. That surely showed a measure of triumph. And he would—of course—tell himself—set his feet high on the ladder of success.

But he was impatient! Her path had always been the commercial path, a steep path enough, but one which had the steps ready cut in it. Opportunities had always been waiting for her, like foot-holes in a rocky wall. She had never had to make her own opportunities, slowly and with infinite labor.

Janet had grown a bit commercial animal. Her salaries had been a part of her opportunities. It was just a little hard for her to understand the writing temperament—it's longing for expression without compromise. Nor have not women for centuries had to compromise with their own hearts and their own minds in order to be what their world approved of, and called "success."

If Janet had analyzed her exact feeling toward Walt, in the matter of his refusal to write the serial story as Nicoll wanted him to write it, she would have called him unreasonable. Exasperatingly and stubbornly unreasonable. Would it hurt him to change a few things in the story to fit popular opinion and taste? Could he not see his career as a writer to do just one story for money. Wouldn't he gain enough by a little compromise to do just as he pleased in future stories? Having a plump bank balance would in itself give him confidence and dash, and make his success the more soon and certain.

But no! He has to sacrifice everything comfortable to his fanatic devotion to principle! Well, then, since Janet would subordinate all other things to HER WORK! She would make it her love, and her

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 17 years old. Am I too young to have friends? I have had who left here about three months ago. The last time he said he would drop in when I least expected him. As my parents do not let me have friends I do not know what to do. How should I let him know? We like each other very much.

R. C. E.—You are old enough to have boy friends, but not "best." To walk with them dancing, playing tennis and entering into the various sports would be good for you, I think. If your parents insist, however, upon your waiting until you are 18, do not rebel. Many girls do not have boy friends until they are that old.

Do not anticipate trouble. When the boy comes your parents surely will not be rude to him. His calm manner makes them realize that you are a young lady now and entitled to an occasional call. You will probably have to telephone you or let you know in some way when he wants to come, and then if your parents object to come give him that reason for not seeing him.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 15 with a very quick temper which I don't seem to be able to control, no matter how hard I try. I also talk too much and I am rather loud at times. Do you think of anything I can do to help in these matters?

Does this have anything to do with the making of friends? If can one be popular with boys and girls both?

NICK—Consciousness of your faults will help to overcome them. Probably you are very sensitive and because of this you believe yourself to be worse than you are. Keep trying to be sweater and more gentle and you will succeed.

A quick temper hurts people and would stand in the way of your making friends. To be loud and talk too much would also stand in the way of your shaking the kind of friends you want.

You are very young, little girl. Be your very best self and as you develop in character you will not want for friends of either sex.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have a boy friend whom I admire as a friend and nothing else. He seems to care a great deal for me. In fact he told me he loved me better than anyone else. I have hinted to him time and again that I did not care for him very much. I have written him. He seemed to be very anxious for an explanation as to my ignoring his letters. I do not want to hurt his feelings and so what shall I do? He is a perfect gentleman and in fact one of the best boys

I have ever known.

ANXIOUS—He will soon decide from your silence that you no longer care to correspond. In case he asks to see you, make excuses. It is impossible to drop anyone without hurting feelings.

THANK YOU.

A boy who insists upon such a thing shows that he is sentimental and not interested in anything beyond love making. Do not let him hold your hand.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: It is proper to wear boy's ring if he is a very dear friend?

THANK YOU.

A girl should never wear a boy's ring no matter how good the friendship.

RECIPES FOR A DAY.

VEAL CROQUETTES WITH PEAS. Two cups boiled veal, two cups cold boiled rice—one cup cream sauce, one tea-spoon salt, pepper to taste, one tea-spoon sugar, one-half teaspoon grated nutmeg, one-tablespoon finely chopped parsley, one-tablespoon flour, and one egg. Put meat and rice through food-chopper; add sauce and other ingredients; mix well; spread on plate; put in cold place. When cold and firm, take a tablespoonful into floured hands and mold into cones or oblong shapes. After all are made, dip in well-beaten egg, which has been mixed with one-tablespoon of milk; then in fine breadcrumbs. Fry in very hot fat.

VEGETABLE SOUP OR STEW. One cup of chopped cabbage, one cup each of carrots, turnips, potatoes, some dried celery tops. Let all boil until tender.

Now add one cup of canned tomatoes, one cup of canned sweet corn. Season and add two spoonfuls of chicken fat or beef drippings. This is nice if thickened with cream and a little onion.

When it is a fat chicken fry out the pieces of fat, put in jelly tumblers and use it to flavor noodles. Put two teaspoons in when the noodles are cooking; makes them taste as if cooked in chicken soup.

SPICED PRUNES. Three pounds medium-sized prunes, one pound (two cups) brown sugar, three-quarter cup water, one-quarter cup whole spice (cinnamon, allspice, cloves, mace), one-tablespoon finely cut lemon rind, two cups water, in which prunes were soaked. Put the sugar, water and spices on to boil and boil slowly 20 minutes; the prunes have been washed and soaked over night, then brought to the boiling point. Draw the water off, and use two cups of sugar. After spicing and sugar have been boiled pour it over the prunes and let simmer ten minutes. Much depends on the prunes how long they must simmer. Some are much harder than others; they must not break. The splices can be used in a piece of cheesecloth.

DISCOVERIES.

When you are using off-white to cover projectiles or other things that are to be dropped in crumb, beat the white only until it is broken. Add one-tablespoon hot—no boiling—water for each white. If you use the yolk with the white add two tablespoons for the entire egg. Never use the yolk only for this purpose.

When you are making pies from canned fruit, set and pinch juice from fruits in the usual manner and then bind with a strip of white cotton cloth that has been wrung out of cold water. Press it lightly over the edge of the crust, letting the lower edge hang over the side of the tin. It can be easily taken off when the pie is baked.

I have ever known.

ANXIOUS—If the atmosphere about her is right. High, narrow heels and shorts and other appearances of the digits and of foolish ways cause a whole lot of unhappiness in the world.

I know of any number of men and women over 60 years of age who during six somersaults every night and morning and tell whooping stories of the beneficial results. And sometimes I believe their stories, for seeing is believing.

In the case of one who has injured for many years in the follies of custom and dignity I suppose it is difficult to muster sufficient courage to do a foolish thing like turning a somersault.

All danger of breaking anything may be avoided by first spreading over the floor sufficient mattresses padding or pillows to protect the floor against vicious impacts.

When all is ready, you kneel, and your husband or the hired man holds

Then go right around and repeat the stunt. Keep at it until you can do it as well as a four-year-old child.

SIDE TALKS—BY—RUTH CAMERONTHE BOOKS WE WON'T READ.

We were talking about books the other day and a middle-aged woman confessed to this astonishing fact. She had never read "Little Woman."

Just think of it. Perhaps it may not seem so remarkable to the present generation of young readers. Perhaps there are a great many of them who do not find their way past the books of the present day. But a wonderful shelf full of shabby books which "Little Woman" so prominently dominates, I do not know about that. But I am sure that there are very few women who were in their girlhood when "Little Woman" was in the vogue who will not wonder at this confession.

Because She Had Heard So Much About It.

Of course, we asked her the reason and she said, "Because I heard so much about it. I hate anything I hear so much about. Didn't you ever feel that way about a book?"

Did we? We searched our minds in answer to this challenge and presently admitted that we sometimes did.

A STRUGGLE TO KEEP FROM HAVING LOVED ME.

My contribution was "Lorna Doone." I could make up my mind to read that book. At first I just didn't happen to, and then people raved so about its charms when they found that I hadn't read it that I turned against it. I have even had other books everyone is supposed to have Read.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin," "One Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," and "Tom Sawyer" were among the other books which everybody is supposed to read, and which various members of our group pleaded guilty to definitely sidestepping.

It's natural to be appalled at these confessions. Doubtless you have read every one of these books and know just how much these obstinate folks are missing. But stop a bit before you condemn. Are you sure there isn't a single won't-read book in your calendar?

CARDS GET SWEET REVENGE BEATING FAIRIES 42 TO 22

J. H. S. DEFEATED IN FIRST TOURNEY GAME BY EVANSCILLE, 22-20

CHURCH LEAGUE WILL OPEN WEDNESDAY WITH DOUBLE HEADER AT 'Y'

THURSDAY'S TOURNAMENT SCORES.

Evansville, 22; Janesville, 20.
Waterloo, 20; Elkhorn, 14.
Delavan, 19; Stoughton, 7.
Whitewater, 22; Lake Geneva, 8.
El. Atkinson, 17; Oregon, 6.

Results of yesterday's tournament basketball games at Whitewater leave Evansville, Waterloo, Delavan, Whitewater, and Fort Atkinson in the race for honors. "Dope" seems to point to either Evansville or Waterloo as the champions.

Janesville's high school's team was defeated by the fast Evansville five by the score of 22 to 20. Although the local bunch had at half time 5 to 3, they fell down in the second period and allowed the Cards to pull away.

Each team will play every other team of the league at least once. The schedule will be completed within two months. Those teams which have entered the league are Presbyterians, Congregationalists, St. Mary's, St. Paul's, First Lutheran, English Lutheran, Baptists, and Methodists. The Episcopal team announced last night that it could not enter.

Interest in the church contests is expected to be as keen as in former years, when these games were second to none in the city. The league which wins the league championship three times becomes the permanent owner of the cup. Until that time, it will pass yearly from the hands of the fast victor to the new champion.

"Motsy" Dalton now in Germany

"Motsy" Dalton, the idol of Janesville basketball fans, is still overseas according to word received in this city this morning. He is with the third army in the Army of Occupation and at the present time is stationed at Coblenz, Germany.

In a letter written Feb. 17, he tells of a football game in which he participated Feb. 15, at Münster, France. He attended the game in full and as usual "Motsy" was on the winning team.

Greb Defeats Houck.

Lancaster, Pa.—Harry Greb defeated Leo Houck in six rounds.
